

About Brian Ostrowski

Brian Ostrowski is marketing and design professional by day and children's book author by night. In 2013, he published his first book, Blip the Bit: And His Adventures in Retroville. In 2014, he published his second book, titled When I Was Little (Just Like You). His latest book, The Kid Who Wasn't Good At Anything will be available this summer.

When Brian is not writing or designing, he enjoys watching 80s movies, surfing the web, and playing vintage video games--especially Ms. Pac-Man. He secretly wishes he had a talking car, and that soda drink hats, station wagons, and keyboard-driven guitar rock would make a comeback. If Brian's not home, it's probably because he's currently scouring local yard sales to complete his boxed 2600 Activision collection.

Brian lives in New Jersey with his wife and two children.
